Hello WCGN members,

The long awaited St. Louis Conference is less than a month away! Program details and the attendee registration list are available here and we'll update them regularly.

Haven't signed up yet? Don't wait a minute more. We're quickly reaching full capacity.

Our March call features WCGN Board Member and attorney Dianne Bailey, whose practice is dedicated to nonprofits. Whether or not you currently have an endowment, Dianne will provide valuable insight into why an endowment may be a wise and prudent revenue source for your organization's operations.

Is your organization interested in hosting the 2015 WCGN Conference? Let's talk. The Board is now considering host cities for the fall 2015 conference. If your organization is interested, contact me at lmidgley@wcn-network.org. We ask that prospective 2015 hosts send at least one representative to the 2014 St. Louis conference.

I look forward to our call next week.

Warmly

WCGN,

Laura Midgley

WCGN Chair

The WCGN Formula for Change

Hosted by WCGN's Spirit of St. Louis Fund

When women know what their communities need, they act. When women combine resources, their ability to create positive change is unlimited. That's the power of collective giving and a prime reason why WCGN's network of women's collective giving groups continues to expand.

Click here for the full program for three days of inspiration, connection, learning, and sharing at the historic Chase Plaza Park Hotel in St. Louis' central west end.

Join us early on April 8 for an optional tour of St. Louis sights in nearby Forest Park.
